In this section, we outline the building blocks of the Symphony brand, including what we stand for, what sets us apart, why we choose the words we use, and how we've decided to show up in the world.

We are building the workforce of the future and enabling the best global talent to come together to deliver work that matters.

Mission

Passionately creating innovative digital experiences with meaningful value for all.

Vision

Unlocking the full potential of humans + technology to inspire growth for our people, our clients, and our communities.

HUMANS + TECHNOLOGY

Using the power of technology would not be possible without the endless potential of human intelligence. The incredible results we achieve are a joint product of outstanding talent, human intellectual property, and the latest technology, all combined toward a common goal of creating meaningful value.

LONG TERM > SHORT TERM

This isn't about sprinting towards the end of a contract. This is about driving technology forward and building the foundation of long-term partnerships so we can do work that matters.

WE > I

Collaboration is in our DNA. It guides our workspace design, the way we put together lean, flat teams, and how we think about the best talent. The toughest problems won't be solved alone, so we take pride in working together. (It's also why we always give back to our communities and each other.)

FLEXIBLE > FIXED

We are lifelong learners. Our growth mindset means that we are always looking for ways to be better. We track things like happiness and motivation so we can adapt. We learn from working with each other, new teams, new technology or in new cities.

EXCELLENCE = GROWTH

When the bar is set to world-class - every detail matters. We take pride in delivering our best work through dedication, drive, and thoughtfulness. We work hard so we can bring the big picture to life on time, every time.

We build real, enduring partnerships that work within intricate organizational structures for complex businesses, and we deliver real business value

We're uncompromising on partnership and performance, and that means our teams push back when they have conviction and take accountability so we can experiment together and enjoy the ride.

We deliver technology impact with the workforce of the future.
We are confident and insightful.
We always act proactively,
keeping in mind our curious nature.

We're a collective of diverse and best global talent that comes together to deliver work that matters.

When writing about us, always keep in mind key characteristics of our voice: confidence, insightfulness, proactiveness, and curiosity.

Speaking in the first person is the optimal way that we communicate about all aspects of our company. Writing from the third person is reserved for those outside of the company.

In this section, we outline best practices for the use of Symphony brand assets and offer useful examples.

maximum logo size on slide 630 x 125 px

minimum logo size on slide 310 x 65 px

Please use secondary logo option if there is no space for our logo to be fully visible.

The logo should always be given enough breathing room and safety. Half the x-height is the minimum required safety room in any context or property.

The logo is versatile and can be used on all kinds of surfaces and textures, while still pertaining to the rules above.

The logo can be used in a variety of formats. Black on white, white on black, white on color, or white on image. Black may be used on very minimal light images, but is not recommended.

The one-color logo should be used on photographs and color backgrounds within the Symphony color palette.

The one-color logo should be used on black and white colorways.

If using purple background, we strongly prefer to use the white logo. However, if design limitations conflict with this, then the logo should appear in black color.

Although we can be versatile with the logo's colors, always make sure the logo is visible and abides by some simple common sense rules.

Do not crop the logo		The logo needs to always have a visible contrast throughout the entire mark
Do not distort the logo		Do not rotate logo or any part of the logo
Do not use different colors		Do not use drop shadows or any other effects
Do not change the size or position of the logotype		Do not apply gradient on a logo

The Symphony color palette has two sides. In more conservative properties, it is subdued and minimal. When needed, the brand also has a vibrant and wild side that comes out in the form of bright flourishes and motifs that contrast the stark typography and minimal tones.

Geometric sans serif typefaces have been a popular design tool ever since these actors took to the world's stage. Poppins is one of the new comers to this long tradition.

Many of the Latin glyphs (such as the ampersand) are more constructed and rationalist than is typical.

Our illustration style is bold, elevated, and dimensional, heavily defined by the use of negative space and perspective. It was created to distinctly capture the Symphony brand and is used across a range of communications as well as within our product.

Like our brand voice, all photography direction is based on a spectrum of relatable to aspirational.

Avatars: Relatable, human, warm, quirky, but not silly. Colorful, but mature, personable.

Still life: Attainable, clear, concise, human, demonstrates the Symphony personality. Simple, not overly complex.

Lifestyle: Aspirational, alludes to collaboration, confident, clear, focused, environmentally inclusive (the subject is a part of something bigger).

Lower thirds: Design should be clean and clear. Names should be set in Poppins bold, titles in Poppins Regular and backgrounds set to 80% opacity.

Opening-Ending slates: All videos should end with the Symphony logo, animated or still.

Watermarked logos: If needed Watermarked logos should be placed in the upper left at 50% opacity.

Symphony icons are used across different brand touchpoints from marketing to environment to product. They provide symbolism, conceptual clarity and visual interest in simplistic shapes and forms.
